2016 Washington Winter Show: Through the Eyes of a Child Annual Antiques and Art Show to feature collection from Gunston Hall

Washington, D.C. -- The 2016 Washington Winter Show, presented by PNC, will take place January 8-10, 2016 at the Katzen Arts Center at American University, Washington DC. The theme of the 2016 show is Through the Eyes of a Child, and will feature a loan exhibit from Gunston Hall. There will be a special Preview Night reception, January 7.

“We are thrilled to have PNC returning as our presenting sponsor and look forward to continuing to work with our incredible charity partners, including The Bishop John T. Walker School for Boys, THEARC and St. John's Community Services,” said this year’s show co-chair Patricia Montague. Since 2011, the Washington Winter Show has generated over a quarter of a million dollars for these local charities serving the greater Washington community.

In addition to displays from more than 40 premier antiques and fine arts exhibitors from across the country and Europe, this year the Show will feature a loan exhibition from nearby Gunston Hall, the historic home of American Patriot George Mason.

“Gunston Hall is not only historically significant as the home of George Mason, but in its architecture and art,” said co-chair Frances Talley, “and it will be a special treat to showcase it’s treasures amongst the incredible period furnishings, decorative arts, vintage jewelry, porcelains, ceramics, silver, and architectural garden accents also on display this year. “
